Introduction

You are nearing a journey that will alter your prayer life forever. Beyond your prayer life, this journey may well change your entire life. The purpose of the manual is to help prepare you for this incredible journey.

A prayer journey is going somewhere around the corner or around the world for the primary purpose of intercessory prayer on location.

Prayerwalking is a method of intercessory prayer that involves walking while praying at the location of the prayer journey. Prayerwalking may also include riding, jogging, boating, biking, flying, riding a train or any other means of transportation.

Many of you have been practicing prayerwalking for years without knowing what to call it. In 1993, Creation House Books of Orlando, Fla., released a book co-authored by Steve Hawthorne and Graham Kendrick titled, Prayer-walking: Praying On Site With Insight. This was the first book devoted exclusively to the method of prayerwalking. While the book has some problems with biblical interpretation, it does offer creative prayer strategies and a name for what you may have been doing.

A valuable insight into the purpose of prayerwalking was offered by a missionary couple serving among an unreached people group in East Asia. They said, "We would like to see a spiritual harvest, but we are seeing none. We would like to say that we are busy watering seed that has been planted, but neither are we doing that. We'd like to tell you that we are faithfully planting seed for a future harvest, but this has not yet been our ministry. We wish we could share with you that we spend our time breaking up the soil for the planting of seeds. Not so. Quite honestly, ours is a ministry of rock moving."

"Rock moving" is the job of intercessors. A prayer journey allows you the privilege of walking and praying among the rocks.

So, a definition is in order. Prayerwalking is intercession on location, with information, in cooperation, against opposition, for glorification. This definition will also serve as the orientation outline.

While not covered in this manual, it is strongly encouraged that the prayerwalker be in right relationship with God before beginning such a strategic assignment. Walking with the Lord should always be a prerequisite to walking and talking with the Lord. You may need to pause right now and update your relationship with God. Then ask God to give you an open mind and a receptive spirit so that you might be a more effective prayerwalker during your prayer journey.

Prayerwalking is intercession

Intercessory prayer is a biblical priority. Paul instructed young Timothy as follows: “I exhort first of all that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men” (1 Timothy 2:1).

The Bible mentions many kinds of prayer, such as supplications, petitions, thanksgivings as well as intercessions. Intercession is that type of prayer that focuses on the needs and concerns of others. During your prayerwalking, God may reveal some personal need to you for which you must offer petition, but primarily, prayerwalking is offering prayers of intercession.

T.W. Hunt, long-time prayer leader among Southern Baptists, calculated that among the prayers of the Bible where we know the answer given, 78 percent are prayers of intercession.

While the term, “prayerwalking” does not appear in the Bible, nor does the Bible describe any person as actually practicing “prayerwalking” as we know it, it is a method that God is using today. It is a method of the biblical priority of intercession.

An early warning is in order: Refrain from worshipping the method. Rather, use a method that God is currently blessing while worshipping the God of the method.

Prayers of intercession are offered ...

... to the Father. Prayerwalking is primarily talking to God about the people rather than talking to the people about God. God said to Jeremiah, “Call to Me and I will answer you and tell you great and mighty things, which you do not know” (Jeremiah 33:3). Note the instructions in Matthew 6:6; Matthew 18:19-20; John 16:23.

... to and in the name of the Son. Prayerwalking is done in the authority of Jesus Christ rather than in your own authority. Note the experience of the disciples in Luke 10:1-20. See also John 14:13-14; John 15:16; Romans 10:12; Romans 8:34; 2 Corinthians 12:8.

... in and with the Holy Spirit. Prayerwalking is done in harmony with God’s agenda, rather than your own agenda. Note Paul’s experience in Acts 16:6-10. See also Romans 8:26; Ephesians 6:18; Jude 20.

As you walk and pray you will be a person of secret influence; interceding to the Father, in the name of the Son, with the Holy Spirit to the One who works where no man can work, who accomplishes tasks beyond man’s ability to accomplish, and who gains glory where man sees no glory. God will respond to your intercessions, not because He has to, but because He has chosen to do so.

Unless otherwise noted, all Scripture is from The Holy Bible, New King James Version.

Prayer suggestions for intercessory prayerwalking

- 1 Be spiritually prepared — daily Bible reading, devotion and private prayer.
- 2 Wear comfortable, culturally acceptable clothing.
- 3 Wear walking shoes that are already “broken in.”
- 4 A light-weight backpack or a “fanny pack” may be useful on long walks.
- 5 Carrying a camera should be cleared with your local host prior to the walk.
- 6 Teams of three seem to be best, four is OK, five is too large.
- 7 Pray together as a team prior to the beginning of the walk.
- 8 Pray with your eyes open, sensitive to what might prompt prayer.
- 9 Reinforce prayers of other team members before changing the subject of prayer.
- 10 Stop for more intense prayer as the occasion calls for it.
- 11 Forget phrases like “lead, guide and direct” and talk with God in a conversational manner.
- 12 Use Scripture in your prayer — either direct quotes or paraphrases.
- 13 Don’t be afraid of silence. It is OK to walk and pray silently for a time.
- 14 Smile and be pleasant to people you meet. God may be working in their lives. Pray for them.
- 15 It is OK if prayerwalking feels awkward the first few times. It will soon feel more comfortable.
- 16 Singing is often an effective way to pray and praise.
- 17 When praying becomes difficult, admit it to your team and ask them to pray for you.
- 18 Be flexible as the Holy Spirit leads.
- 19 Conclude your walk on time especially if a share time is planned with others.
- 20 Pray together as a team at the conclusion of the walk.
- 21 Keep a daily journal at the conclusion of each day.
- 22 When the prayer journey is over don’t worship the journey; move on to other ministries.

Prayerwalking is intercession on location

“Why can’t I just stay at home and intercede?” This question is often asked related to participation on a prayer journey.

The answer is that you can. And God will hear and respond to your prayer as He will to the prayers of those who go.

While “location” may or may not be important to everyone, it is of utmost value to the prayer-walker. To pray while seeing, feeling, touching and hearing is to pray with more intensity. After the prayer journey is over, you will never pray the same way again for the location of your walk and the people you met there.

While “prayerwalking” is not mentioned as such in the Bible, praying on location most clearly is. When Jesus received the message of the illness of Lazarus, he could have prayed for healing in his present location and may well have done so for he stayed there “two more days” before announcing to the disciples, “Lazarus is dead.” There may be other reasons why Jesus chose to go then to Bethany, but on arrival, he prayed before calling out, “Lazarus, come forth!” (John 11:1-44). This was intercession on location. There are other biblical examples of such location-praying. Perhaps you will want to study some of them before your prayer journey.

An additional value of location-praying has to do with presence. Since Jesus lives within you and the Holy Spirit works through you, there is a sense that your prayerwalking provides light in dark places and salt in unsavory places (Matthew 5:13-16). If your body really is a “temple of God” (I Corinthians 3:16) then where you go, you represent His presence.

Often the location of your prayerwalking will be in enemy territory. One writer says, “Christians have lost the home field advantage.” This is true in most, if not all, of the world. The enemy and his influence will be obvious to you as you walk. In times like these you need to remember that the battle has already been assured. “Then I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, ‘Now salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of His Christ have come, for the accuser of our brethren, who accused them before our God day and night, has been cast down. And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony ...’” (Revelation 12:10-11). Walk, not in fear, but in assured victory.

Some locations where you may want to prayerwalk (or stop for prayer) include:

1. Government buildings, especially those that effect missionary presence and work
2. Churches or locations for possible new church starts
3. High places, such as mountains or tall buildings where you can get a perspective of the area
4. Neighborhoods or areas where there is no evangelical work
5. Schools
6. Hospitals
7. Business areas
8. Sites of other religions, false religions, sect groups or cults

Prayerwalking is intercession on location with information in cooperation

Matthew 18:19-20 is a Scripture that speaks of cooperation. “I say to you, that if two of you agree on earth about anything that they may ask it shall be done for them by My Father who is in heaven. For where two or three have gathered together in My name, I am there in their midst.”

The word “agree” is the Greek word sumphoneo used for musical instruments that harmonize even though they are not the same. A prayer journey involves praying in concert.

You must pray in concert with other members of your team. Team harmony is an absolute must in the midst of a prayer journey. Amos quoted God asking, “Can two walk together unless they are agreed?” (Amos 3:3). Note how the disciples prayed together for Peter in Acts 12:5-17.

You must pray in concert with your non-present prayer partners. Surely you will want to recruit a few faithful intercessors to cover you with prayer while you are prayerwalking through enemy territory. Perhaps each prayer partner could take a period of time so you will be covered throughout the day and night.

You must pray in concert with those who minister on the field of your prayer journey. Remember, they were there before you arrived and they will be there after you are gone. Your cooperation with them is of utmost importance, even when you may not understand everything.

You must pray in concert with God. Obedience to God’s will is a key to the success of a prayer journey. Many times believers forget this portion of the passage. It is not enough to agree with each other and with other prayer partners and fellow workers. “It shall be done” is dependent on agreement with the “I am.”

Prayerwalking is intercession on location with information in cooperation against opposition

The very existence of Satan suggests opposition. The most common biblical name used for this enemy, Satan, means adversary or opposer. Not only is he an opposer, Satan gets extremely angry when you are involved in any activity, like intercessory prayer, that may eventually cause people to transfer their membership from his kingdom to the kingdom of God. He has “blinded the minds of the unbelieving” (2 Corinthians 4:4) and does not appreciate your attempts to have them enlightened. At some point in your prayer journey you will likely be able to say with Paul, “Satan hindered us” (1 Thessalonians 2:18).

Prior to your journey, Satan will use any means possible to convince you that you are wasting your time and money. He will plant thoughts in your mind that this journey will not be good for your health, your job, your family or your future. You may expect added stress as you prepare for your journey.

During the prayer journey, Satan will try to convince you that prayerwalking is not for you, that it does no good, that there is no visible result, that your team members are not as committed as you, that you are using your time foolishly. He will try to disrupt team unity and bring in outside adversity. As a master of distraction he will try to distort your focus and defeat your spirit.

A review of your weapons prior to the encounter will be of value. Paul reminded us, “Though we walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh, for the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh, but divinely powerful for the destruction of fortresses” (2 Corinthians 10:3-4). The key phrase is not “the destruction of fortresses” but “divinely powerful.” You cannot war with Satan in your own strength and you certainly can’t single-handedly destroy his fortresses. James instructs believers to “Submit therefore to God. Resist the devil and he will flee from you” (James 4:7).

You are not to command Satan, you are to resist him. Why would you want to talk to Satan, demanding that he refrain from some activity or remove himself from some place, when you have access to One infinitely more powerful and authoritative than Satan? So, don’t talk to Satan, talk to God about Satan. Don’t look for a demon behind every bush. Look for the evidences of God all around you. Don’t press the enemy, praise the victor.

In preparation for opposition you may want to pray about (or pray on) your armor, “that you may be able to resist in the evil day, and ... stand firm” (Ephesians 6:13). Again, you may note that five of the six pieces of armor are defensive while only the Word of God for offense. Pray on truth, righteousness, peace, faith, salvation and the Word of God (Ephesians 6:14-17) and “with prayer and petition pray at all times in the Spirit ...” (Ephesians 6:18).

Above all remember, “Do not fear or be dismayed ... for the battle is not yours but God’s” (2 Chronicles 20:15).

What new lessons did you learn about intercessory prayer on your prayerwalk?

What did you discover about your location that will cause you to continue to intercede?

What new information do you have as a result of this prayerwalk?

What did this prayerwalk teach you about praying in cooperation?

What did you discern about the opposition while participating in this prayerwalk?

How was God glorified during your prayerwalk?

Prayerwalking is intercession on location with information in cooperation against opposition for glorification

If you are participating in this prayer journey for any reason other than to glorify God, it is time to reevaluate your motives. Your prayer from beginning to end must echo that of the Psalmist, “Be exalted, O God, above the heavens, and Your glory above all the earth” (Psalm 108:5).

If you have doubts about your ability to glorify God through this prayer journey, listen to what God told the Psalmist, “Cease striving and know that I am God; I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted in the earth” (Psalm 46:10). Your very response in faithful obedience to God’s open door is an act that brings glory to God. Not only will people be blessed by your presence, God will be exalted through your intercessions.

So prepare yourself. As God’s people in an earlier day prepared themselves to cross into the promised land, Joshua’s words might well have been said to you, “Consecrate yourselves, for tomorrow the Lord will do wonders among you” (Joshua 3:5).

Fear not. As God told Israel, God tells you, “I am the Lord your God, who upholds your right hand, who says to you, ‘Do not fear, I will help you’” (Isaiah 41:13).

Trust God to do the work even when it seems your prayers are futile. Of a rebellious people, perhaps of your people, God said, “I permitted Myself to be sought by those who did not ask for Me; I permitted Myself to be found by those who did not seek Me. I said, ‘Here am I, here am I’ to a nation which did not call on My name” (Isaiah 65:1).

Stand back and be amazed. God told Habakkuk in response to his cry, “Look among the nations! Observe! Be astonished! Wonder! Because I am doing something, in your days — you would not believe if you were told” (Habakkuk 1:5).

Remember, you are an ambassador for Christ (2 Corinthians 5:20) one who represents a King in another kingdom. The old Royal Ambassador hymn said it this way:

I am a stranger here, within a foreign land.
My home is far away, upon a golden strand.
Ambassador to be, to realms beyond the sea,
I’m here on business for my King.

May God be glorified, against your opposition, in the midst of your cooperation, with your new information, on your location, through your intercession.
